game that is 100% free without nonsense. Data Wing is a racing adventure through pure neon style. The visual styling is strikingly secure, and I love every minute I've spent with Data Wing. The touch controls are completely on point and incredibly sharp, the levels look amazing and it has a good skill cap. There's a funny story behind the Data Wing, a bit like the original Tron in some ways. You'll probably finish it pretty quickly, but it's really fun to go back and do it all over again. There is high replay value here. The soundtrack is pretty good too. I love everything about Data Wing, and it lacks the disadvantages and caveats I usually have to note. This is free without ads or IAPs to be had. Another excellent freebie, Data Wing is a gorgeous racing adventure that takes obvious cues from tron neonscape. It's a brilliant little game and worth playing. Beach Buggy Racing 2 is a bit like classic Mario Kart or Diddy Kong Racing (who remembers it??). It's a cart racer with power-ups and intense competition through crazy surroundings as you race to the top. But there is a little more content here to enjoy and work towards than the classic style of play. Not only can you pick up cars and drivers – and there's a lot there, for sure – but you can smooth up power-ups, which there's a lot to choose from. There are many game modes, including an online competitive multiplayer, and then you will have more than enough to do. Beach Buggy Racing 2 is a fun racing experience and very evocative of the classics I mentioned above. Although it is free to play, it is not super invasive with its earnings, and since the game is so fun, I do not feel bad about supporting the developer. You really just pay to speed up the progress of the game. Beach Buggy Racing 2 brings you back to the good old days of console cart racing games. It's cute, it's fun, and it's just a great time around. It's hard to believe I hadn't heard of Nitro Nation Drag & Shift before, especially given it's ridiculous name, because it's apparently very popular. So I decided to give it a chance and knew almost immediately that it had to be here in this list and this comes from someone who usually doesn't like racing games. Because, despite some in-app purchases, Nitro Nation, as it will be hereinafter called, strays away from the usual freemium pitfalls we see with these types of games (some of which are in this list, go figure). It's just an honest to goodness racing game full of drag racing goodness, with IAPs for high-profile cars and in-game currency. There is an absolute ton to do in nitro nation, many cars to aspire to, tuning, cosmetics to unlock, and just a bunch. It's almost overwhelming. And without the usual nonsense of energy systems, waiting times for upgrades, or anything focus on enjoying the experience the game has to offer. I think you'll like this one. Despite an embarrassingly long name, Nitro Nation Drag & Shift is just a good drag racing game with lots to do, lots of cars and cosmetics to unlock, and some great gameplay to enjoy. Dirt Trackin 2 is the sequel to the excellent Dirt Trackin (of course). It may not be quite looker like some of the other games on this list, but it has a solid gameplay foundation, some variety, and races versus AI and other players. In addition, it has simple but tight controls, which is all you can ask for in any racing game. There are plenty of customization, five car models to choose from, one career mode and PvP. You also have time attempts and some other modes to play. This is a fun game to play to kill some time. Dirt Trackin 2 is a fun racing game with lots of customization and a lot to do. It may not look the best, but it has a solid foundation. A free-to-play, freemium game like others here, Hill Climb Racing 2 still presents a fun time racing. It has many vehicles to unlock, upgrades to buy, customization for both vehicles and characters, and some different game modes (like Offline Adventure and Arcade). As you may have guessed by the name, the game is all about climbing and descending slopes as you drive others. It's a simple game, but a lot of fun. I suggest you check it out if you like more whimsical racing games because you won't find much realism here. Hill Climb Racing 2 challenges you to beat everyone to the top and bottom of the hills. There are several cars to unlock, upgrades to buy, and customization to be had. December 2020 Update: Added Dirt Trackin 2 and Hill Climb Racing 2 to our list!
